

Coleman: Building Products That Create Memories

Bringing excitement, fun and memories to the outdoors has been the legacy of The Coleman Company since it began 112 years ago. Through innovation each year, we create lanterns, stoves, coolers, tents, sleeping bags, airbeds and electric lights that fit with the changing lives of families around the world.

That creativity and imagination is still growing exponentially at each of our facilities worldwide. Coleman experts are getting outdoors on lakes and rivers and at some beautiful campsites to talk to consumers about how they experience the outdoors. Those teams are bringing their conversations back to the office and working with some of the world's brightest, most creative minds to turn impressive ideas into incredible innovations.

It's just one more way we're learning and experiencing everything we can to continue to make some of the greatest, most reliable outdoor goods in the world.

WEATHERTEC™ SYSTEM

Keeps You Dry... GUARANTEED™

Strong Frame Design

Tested for wind resistance up to 35 mph.

Zipper Guard

Protects door's zipper from rain.

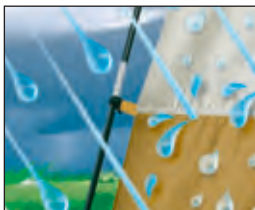

Protected Seams

Inverted seams prevent the stitches from being exposed to the rain.

Leak-Free Seams

Fully taped rainfly seams prevent rain from seeping.

Weather Resistant Fabric

PU coating on fabric ensures water cannot penetrate the tent walls.

Waterproof Floor

Polyethylene tub floors have welded floor seams and welded corners.

* This is the rated lumen output from the light source as measured from the manufacturer. Actual lumen output may vary. These numbers are only applicable to the LED when junction temperature is measured at 25° C. It does not include the thermal loss, driver loss and secondary optics loss that will occur in the system.

 This measurement is the approximate lumens of light exiting the product as measured by an independent lab with all circuit and optical losses included.
